BUSY PLACE—This aerial view of the Beach Club and dock at Pebble Beach is deceptive in its placidity. This weekend and next the club and its adjacent waters will teem with activity. Regatta Races Three and Four of the Championship Series will be held on Sunday, and on the Fourth of July weekend, celebrities will battle on the tennis courts just above the dock. On Friday the Fourth, a Beer Can Race will be a happening in Stillwater Cove. First races of the Jenkins' Series will start on Sunday.

Entry List for Pebble Beach Celebrity Tennis Grows

Pairings for the fourth annual Pebble Beach Celebrity Tennis Festival are fast filling up.

Latest to accept berths in the July 3-4-5 matches are Cornel Wilde and Macdonald Carey, from motion pictures, and Jack Ging, John Lufton, and Fernando Roca, from television.

Already slated to play are Clint Eastwood, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Jim Brown and Dick Sargent.

This year's tournament will feature a Woman's Division for the first time, with Vera-Ellen, Mrs. Edgar Bergen, Maggie Eastwood, and Donna Meyers, co-holder of the Pacific Amateurs Mixed Doubles title, set to play.

Honorary chairman, Cortney Jackson, president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club, and a noted radio and television show producer, reports that Dinah Shore is set to play, "if she's back from London in time."

The other half of the Pac-Am Mixed Doubles winners, Jack "Moose" Meyers, leads a contingent of present and past footballers, including Matt Hazeltine and Y. A. Tittle, who are ready to do battle on the Beach and Tennis Club courts.

Noted amateurs in the Celebrity field, Jack Bowker, national hardcourt and California state veteran's champion; Yvon Nopert, past Belgium Davis Cup team member; and Jack Frost, who has recorded victories over Rod Laver and Jaroslav Droby.

Former Navy Undersecretary in the Kennedy Administration and author (The Pleasure of His Company), Paul Fay Jr., who won the doubles in 1967, is back with his partner, banker Dave Wisnom.

Writers and artists in the tournament, which will feature consecutive matches on three club courts, are Herb Caen; Art Hoppe; Los Angeles newscaster Ralphy Storey, and syndicated cartoonist Lee Holley of "Ponytail" fame.

Tickets for the matches are available from festival chairman, Ann Hess, Pebble Beach, the Del Monte Lodge, and the Beach and Tennis Club. For information, phone 624-6411.

City Planners, City Council Discuss Trees

By Gunnar Norberg

The Council Chamber at City Hall was a busy place yesterday, for there was little interval between the end of the afternoon City Planning Commission session and the start of the evening City Council meeting.

First item on the Planning Commission agenda was a report by City Attorney William Burleigh on a proposal to establish a restaurant at the city's Sunset Center.

Burleigh stated that the terms of a possible lease would have to be determined before the application for a use permit could properly come before the Planning Commission for its decision.

The commission also heard a report presented by City Forester Robert Tate, on the condition of the forest environment in which Carmel lives, and the care which must soon be given to that forest, if it is to survive.

The condition of the city forest and its care also took a prominent place in the evening discussion by the City Council of the salary portion of the city's 1969-70 budget, for that part of the budget also included provision for two additional forestry workers, as well as a replacement for a disabled police officer and for the new position of assistant city administrator.

Councilman Herb Blanks, who is a forester by profession, said he was most reluctant to add new jobs because of the tax impact of such additions, but he also understood the urgent need to care for the city forest and he felt "the public would most want us to take good care of it."

Before the Council acted to add the two new forestry workers to City Forester Tate's crew, Mayor Laiolo

A school budget for the 1969-70 year totalling $3,697,220 was adopted at Wednesday night's session in spite of the uncertainty of income.

More than two-thirds of the budget will be paid to teachers, principals and classified help, and will cover a four per cent cost-of-living raise. The same percentage was allotted administration, including the superintendent of schools.

Early next week assessed evaluations will be released by the county which will clarify the financial situation, said Walter Hinton,

Nick LeFeuvre, Rod Allison Head 'Ernest In Love' Cast At Studio

The Studio Theatre-Restaurant has assembled an all-star cast for "Ernest In Love," the musical comedy version of "The Importance of Being Earnest" opening Thursday.

Nick LeFeuvre Jr. and Rod Allison play the suave Londoners, Jack and Algernon, whose path to the altar encounters truly Victorian obstacles.

LeFeuvre's talents have been in such wide demand that he has appeared in no less than three dozen local productions over the past 12 years. An accomplished puppeteer, he plans to open a school of puppetry in the fall. Allison has just completed the role of Paul Verrall in "Born Yesterday" at the Studio and previously played The Boy in "The Fantasticks" and Cocky in "The Road Of The Greasepaint."

Anita Tonn as Lady Bracknell is making her fourth appearance at the Studio in three years, having been seen in "Hay Fever," "Janus" and as the distraught mother in "Come Blow Your Horn" last fall.

Her daughter Gwendolen is played by Susan Newell, the brassy Gloria of "Everybody Loves Opal" and previously featured in "The Roar Of The Greasepaint."

The object of Algernon's affections, Cecily, is in the hands of Luann Brown whose portrayal of Billie Dawn highlighted "Born Yesterday" which preceded "Ernest" at the Studio.

Betsi and Edgar Pye, appearing as Miss Prism and the Reverend Chasuble, have played together in many previous productions, including "See How They Run" at the Circle and "Oliver" and "Dangerous Corner" at the Forest Theatre.

Marianne Wagner (Effie), a drama major at San Francisco State, attended the San Francisco School of Theatre Arts, while Bridget Hildebrand (Alice) has been a concert soloist and featured performer in musical entertainments at San Catalina School.

Walter Pezet (Lane) a student at the Naval Postgraduate School, and Larry Parker (Perkins), a drama major at M.P.C., complete the outstanding cast.

Guest director for "Ernest In Love" is Charles Thomas who has directed numerous productions with distinction.

The musical comedy will play Wednesday through Sunday nights at the Studio until Aug. 2.

Reservations for all performances may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Nelson Is Elected Red Cross Chairman At 53rd Annual Meeting June 22

Sixty-one members attended the 53rd annual meeting of the Carmel-by-the-Sea Chapter of the American Red Cross at the LaPlaya Hotel on Sunday, June 22, which honored the volunteer workers and elected the Board of Directors and officers for the coming year.

Don Nelson, manager of the Carmel Branch of the United California Bank, was chosen Chapter chairman, replacing Carl Bosholm who is completing his second term as head of the local chapter.

Other officers elected were F. Douglas Tellwright, 1st vice-chairman; Don Cummins, 2nd vice-chairman; August H. Johnson, treasurer and Miss Ann Barrows, secretary.

Re-elected board members are Mrs. Rogers Parratt, Thomas McKinstry, Mrs. Frank Sarett, Mrs. W. M. Shanner, E. James Mulrooney, Mrs. Francis Scott and Harold Reliford.

Newly elected to the board were Mrs. John Reagles, Reginald Dewar, Jack Martin, Don Hill and Dr. Timothy Hobson.

Carl Vetter, chairman of the ambulance committee, was re-elected to the board after a one-year absence required by the by-laws.

Brass plaques were presented to the Carmel and Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Departments and to the Big Sur Emergency First Aid Unit whose members operate the ambulance provided by the Carmel Red Cross. Mayor Barney Laiolo, representing the people of Carmel, expressed the appreciation of the citizens for the ambulance service.

Morden Buck, commissioner of the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District, to illustrate the feelings of people in his community, read letters from two whose family members had been served by the Carmel Valley ambulance crew, citing their skill and consideration even in the one case when their best efforts could not save the life of an auto accident victim.

Buck also stated that a careful review of the 10-year ambulance record file had convinced him that no fewer than 60 people owed their lives to the ambulance operation.

Captain Francis F. Simmons, commander, Monterey Area California Highway Patrol, paid tribute to the men who operate the ambulances for their dedication and efficiency.

Don Nelson
New ARC Chairman

In a position to know, Captain Simmons said no part of the state had the type of operation provided by the Red Cross ambulances and congratulated the chapter on the fine equipment and services it gives to the community.

Awards were presented to the chapter production chairman, Mrs. Homer Danelz and co-chairman Mrs. Helen Cowan Wood. A five-year service pin to Mrs. George Marston and a ten-year pin to Mrs. Philip Walker were also presented.

Wallace Jamie, public relations director of the Carnation Company who was the principal speaker, entertained and enlightened those present as he has many Red Cross gatherings.

WATERCOLOR CLASS — Watercolor painting enthusiasts, from Vacaville to Bakersfield and wayside points in between, under the tutelage of Helen B. Dooley, have been wielding brushes at a rapid pace this week to express ideas and to develop techniques in landscape painting. On Sunday, June 29, from 2 to 4 p.m., they will exhibit their results at Sunset Center, (San Carlos St. between 8th and 9th) downstairs in the main building. The public is invited. Since many adults in this group are advanced and some are professional painters, this exhibit promises a real treat for the viewer. The paintings have all been inspired by interesting spots in the Monterey Bay area scene. Refreshments will be served.

Carmel Museum Features Nostalgic Painting By Early Local Artists

by Louise Cook

The nostalgic show at the Carmel Museum of Art will continue for several weeks.

Gathering together paintings by the artists who were represented in the first art exhibit in the old Del Monte Hotel in 1907 was indeed a labor of love. A few are the same canvasses which were hung at that opening.

The influence of the recent impressionists is seen in some of the works as well as a remnant of Art Nouveau, such as "Ladies Dancing on the Lawn" by Arthur Frank Mathews. This reveals the typical sinuous line and imaginative subject.

There is a suggestion of Corot in Henry Reynolds Bloomer's "Woman on a Bridge."

Bertha Stringer Lee has done a beautiful, impressionistic "Hay Barges at Wharf" with typical shimmering light reflections.

One of the original canvasses hung at the Del Monte Hotel is "Near Point Jce" by Eugen Neuhaus in which he has worked with a free and confident hand.

"Portals of the Past" by Charles Rollo Peters shows a dark and moody Roman ruin. The clean colors of sand and sky in "Sand Dunes-Pacific Grove" are relieved by bits of green ground growth; this by Charles Chapel Judson.

Two small scenic jewels by Harry Cassie Best disclose a misty "Half Dome from Moran Point - Yosemite" and stormy skies over "Mt. Clark from Glacier Point." These are on loan from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Adams.

Evelyn McCormick is represented by "Sherman's Quarters" framed by leafy greens and "Old Whaling Station" which has a bright sky daubed on in shadings of blue. These two paintings are so clean and sunny in contrast to the dark muddy colors of many of the other canvasses in the exhibit which seems to have been a characteristic of that period.

SF Watercolorist Is Versatile As Artist, Jazz Musician, Teacher

Al Cunningham, who will conduct a workshop in watercolors under the auspices of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art, is a San Francisco artist who has had outstanding success in several fields of artistic endeavor.

Cunningham, who has maintained a studio in San Francisco for nearly 20 years, is a watercolorist of national recognition; a noted jazz musician on guitar and banjo; is a past president of the San Francisco Artists' Cooperative; has been an art director and did the musical backgrounds for a series of educational and documentary films; and is presently doing research in experimental techniques with children and teachers as a graduate intern at the University of California, Berkeley.

His jazz work with the Walt Tolleson Combo Factory as a singer and on the guitar and banjo has won him the acclaim of San Francisco critics.

Cunningham won the commission to paint a series for the States Line Steamship Company, paintings of California, Oregon, Washington and Hawaii which hang in the ships themselves, and in 1963, painted 13 pieces for the Zellerbach Paper Company calendar.

Registrations are now being taken for the 5-day workshop to be given by this noted San Francisco artist. The series begins on July 21, and runs from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Carmel High School.

To register for the class, which is limited to 20 people, call the museum at 624-2918, or workshop chairman Linda Simpson, 624-4393.

Now is the time to buy a home!

The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) predicts the average cost of a home will rise by $1,300 in 1969, and by $1,500 in the following year. This kind of increase could boost the price of houses an additional $10,000 in five years.

Scouts and Leaders Attend Jamboree

Boy Scouts and Explorers have been selected to key positions in the Jamboree troop, consisting of 37 boys and three adult leaders, that leaves July 8 for the 7th National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at Farragut State Park, Idaho.

The young men who will serve in leadership positions are: Jonathan Wren and Gary Gai, junior assistant Scoutmasters; Larry Challis, senior patrol leader; Bruce Armstrong, troop scribe; Allen Miyamoto, quartermaster; Larry Challis, bugler; Mike Stark, Larry Cook, Bill Anastas and Richard Otto, patrol leaders; Ted Celmer, Steve Fellows, Jeff Jenkinson and Jeff Noll, assistant patrol leaders.

"It's like a dream come true to bring so many fine young men and leaders together to form the Jamboree troop," Malcolm Gilchrist, Monterey Bay Area Council Jamboree committee chairman, said.

He pointed out that the patrol is the fundamental unit of the National Jamboree. All food is issued for patrol preparation, all equipment is designed for patrol use, and programming for each troop is accomplished through a patrol leaders' council that features boy representation by their patrol leaders.

The local Jamboree troop will leave by bus from the Boy Scout headquarters in Salinas at 7 a.m. on Tuesday, July 8.

Free Heart Book

Local residents can obtain without charge the booklet "How the Doctor Examines Your Heart" from the Central Mission Trails Heart Association at 541-A South Main Street, Salinas.

The pamphlet is designed to explain in everyday language how physicians judge the condition of a patient's heart.

The Association believes that many persons have a unreasonable fear of electrocardiography and other diagnostic devices used in a typical heart check-up.

The leaflet stresses that a heart examination is a painless procedure with nothing mysterious about it.

RESIGNS — Kaye Scott, executive secretary of the Carmel Business Association tenders her resignation at the summer meeting of the group at the Beach Club.

Kaye Scott, CBA Secretary, Resigns

During last Thursday's dinner meeting of the Carmel Business Association, executive secretary Kaye Scott announced her resignation.

The tireless efforts of Miss Scott will surely be missed by the association.

She plans to take a little rest and then return to her profession in landscape and building architecture.

In the four years Miss Scott has been employed here, the Carmel Business Association has grown from a weak organization to more than 400 members cooperating in an effort to protect and improve the business image of Carmel.

Typical of Miss Scott's efforts was the success of Thursday's meeting at the Beach Club in Pebble Beach. It was attended by nearly 200 members who heard anti-shop-lift experts Ronald H. Smith and James H. Cornelius of the San Jose Police Department say that Carmel is encouraging shoplifting with open displays and dressing rooms hidden from personnel's view.

They said that shop-lifters now take in excess of $3 billion of merchandise per year on a national scale.

Movies were shown on examples of what to watch out for. The star of the movie was a former shop-lifter who had obtained some $1 million in merchandise.

Smith and Cornelius are San Jose policeman who were introduced by Carmel Police Chief Clyde Klaumann.

Mary Barter, president of CBA, presided over the meeting.

In Cambridge, Mass., June 12, their youngest son Greg received his bachelor's degree cum laude in engineering and applied physics at Harvard University. Greg will continue in a doctoral program in economics which will prepare him for work in underdeveloped countries.

In Santa Barbara, two days later, their son, Arthur Jr., was given a Ph.D. in marine biology from the University of California there. He will be at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Another son, Roger, a Lewis and Clark College graduate, now with the U.S. Army Medical Corps, is at home on leave. He will leave for Vietnam next week.

Keith Dahl, who received his MPA from Stanford University two years ago, is associated with his father's investment counseling firm.

Betty, who received a B.S. degree, will study at UC for a master's degree in environmental health.

Her mother, Mrs. Virginia Haak of Carmel, is bound for Martha's Vineyard where she will visit Mrs. Charles Van Riper (Carmel oldtimer), and the James Tysons of Carmel Point at their Long Island home.

On her way back, she will visit her other daughter, Mrs. James (Margie Haak) Archilette and her family in Granger, Utah.

As soon as the children had dropped their luggage and met the happy families with whom they would stay for a month, they all gathered at the beach for a pinata and tamale party.

From Carmel High School there were Maria Baskerville, Charlotte Bell, Jack Holmgren, Kris Swanson and Denise Davies.

Middle School students included Le Anne and Marianne Gillette, Laura, Robert and Brian Harris, Jane Chalkly, Richard and Barbara Wangoe, Kim Thigpen, Kathleen Dresser, David Henry, Sandy, Sheree and Scott Swiess.

On July 18 the children will be back, bringing with them 30 Mexican boys and girls, students at the John F. Kennedy bi-lingual school run by Senor Carlos Carmona who has been promoting the exchange visits.

Three sponsors are needed for three boys, aged 14 and 15. Sponsorship includes the $75 fare and putting them up for a month until August 16.

The other chaperones who accompanied the youngsters to Mexico were Mrs. Dale (Gale) Buche, Mrs. Dale (Barbara) Glasco, and Miss Darby Moss.

QUEEN CALAFIA I — When Monterey County Fair began its search for a sextet of Amazons to play Calafia, legendary queen of the "Island of California" on Aug. 6 through 10, publicity director Ed Pio found he needed to look no farther than the fairgrounds artist for his first candidate. When Zoreva Snow delivered the fair posters Pio drafted her immediately for one of the six. Zoreva is shown above with diminutive Edda Kaudy, office manager at the fairgrounds, who definitely is not a candidate for a Calafia crown.

County Fair Seeks Six-Foot Amazons

The pages of history will roll back 500 years at the coming Monterey County Fair, Aug. 6-10.

Helping to flip those pages backward will be six facsimiles of the legendary Queen of Calafia, who gave her name to California.

Described in a 16th Century romance as "an Amazon, black and blooming," Queen Calafia ruled a nation of women believed to inhabit the "Island of California, very near to the terrestrial paradise in the right hand of the Indies."

To recall the rule of Queen Calafia, six 20th Century Calafias will greet visitors to Monterey County Fairgrounds, Aug. 6 through 10.

The "Amazons" who will be employed for the five days of the August event are being sought now.

The first prerequisite for Calafia's crown is that the applicant must be six feet tall in her stocking feet.

Today's queens of Calafia, like their predecessor, also "must be charming, personable and willing to mingle with people" according to Ed Pio, publicity director of the Fair. Pio will select the sextet of tall beauties. Candidates also must have reached the age of 18.

The contest is open to any woman in the Monterey bay area who meets Calafia's specifications.

Interested applicants are asked to write the Monterey County Fairgrounds, Post Office Box 1151, or call at the administration building at the Fairgrounds, for further information.

Interviews will be scheduled in early July, and names of successful applicants will be announced immediately upon selection.

'Sweet Charity' Cast Enthusiastic In Showy Song-and-Dance Musical

With her heart symbolically tattooed on her arm, Akemi Ito is coming to the Circle Theatre on Friday, June 27, in one of the most showy song-and-dance roles of recent musical comedy history, the title role of "Sweet Charity."

Akemi comes prepared for this role, as she has studied ballet for ten years and is a member of the Monterey Peninsula Ballet Company. She is currently studying jazz with choreographer Dale Lefler, and East Indian dancing with Kira Ivanosky.

As "Charity Hope Valentine," Miss Ito will assume the role of a waif-like dance hall hostess who tirelessly searches for a good man who will take her out of her tawdry ballroom and put her in a kitchen.

Mark Oman as Oscar will be opposite Miss Ito as the shy swain who comes close to effecting her transfer to a kitchen, but can't bring himself to do it.

Linda Zimmerman and Bonnie Rae Dowd will be her tough and tender dance hall chums, Nickie and Helene, who help put over the big musical number "Big Spender."

Pam Lingle joins the group as Carmen to sing another hit song from the show called "Baby Dream Your Dreams."

The large cast will include Robert Heater as Vidal, a fading movie star who is another stop in Charity's quest for romance, and Tim Gleeson as the proprietor of the dance hall where the girls don't dance as much as they defend themselves.

Dale Diggs as Big Daddy Brubek will lead the chorus in the be-bop "Rhythm of Life" number, which parodies a hipster-style revival meeting.

Others in the large cast who populate Charity's colorful world of Times Square include: Mary Mabe as Ursula, Tony Padilla as Marvin, Bob Crabtree as Charlie, Peter Hanson as Manfred, and Pete Brandon as the Doorman.

In the spirited chorus of dancers, under the direction of choreographer Dale Lefler, are Gary Craig, Dee Janke, April Canaday, Leslye Weinfield, Toni Hyland, Kay Walter, Judy Marotta, Juanita Newell, Steve Smith and John Sullivan.

A presentation of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, Inc., the production is under the direction of Zelma Weinfield, with musical direction by Tom Fordham.

"Sweet Charity" will play Wednesdays through Sundays, alternating weekly until Labor Day with "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," which is scheduled to open July 11th.

Reservations for all performances, and for group discounty bookings are now being accepted at the theatre box office at 624-2669.

BofA Reports On Tourist Industry

The tourist-recreation industry has increasing relevance to many smaller California communities, according to a new Bank of America study.

"Catering to visitors is becoming an important part of the economic base of these towns," the bank said.

"An attractive community will draw visitors over and over; one that has replaced all its trees with billboards has destroyed an irreplaceable asset.

"The keys to maintaining the proper balance are good planning, strong control and citizens cooperation and involvement."

The bank noted that the demand for outdoor recreation is growing faster than the supply, with the greatest demand for close-in, part-day use situations requiring no more than a two hour round trip.

"The post-World War II growth boom took most of California's cities by surprise and few had the foresight to plan for recreational open space. Los Angeles, for example, today has less than one acre of neighborhood and community recreation facilities per 1000 population, meeting only 10 per cent of the demand."

Pointing out that the tourist-recreation industry generally rates third largest in California (behind agribusiness and manufacturing), the in-depth report concludes:

"The public sector is going to need help from the private sector. New combinations of public-private funds will have to be found for development of recreation facilities. One possibility being discussed is the use of public money to develop recreation facilities on private land.

"However it is done, there is growing awareness that making outdoor recreation more accessible to more people should be a priority in planning and resource management."

Copies of the Outdoor Recreation & Tourism report are available through any Bank of America branch.

Barbados, Former Pirate Island

One of the exciting vacation islands of the Caribbean is the newly independent nation of Barbados, a member of the British Commonwealth and a former stronghold of pirates.

Almost alone among the islands of the Caribbean, Barbados remained British from its discovery until it became an independent nation in 1966. It escaped the almost ping-pong ball existence of some of the other islands, which switched from English to French to Spanish and back to English many times.

But Barbados lay to windward of the other islands and therefore was difficult to reach in those ungainly square-riggers which were slow before the wind and which hardly went to windward at all. If ever a fleet did start out tacking to lay seige to Barbados, it would have been in sight literally for days before it arrived, giving the Bajans more than sufficient time to prepare for invasion.

Today, Bridgetown's harbor police dress in the same uniform worn by Nelson's sailors, and islanders have a pronounced British intonation in their speech.

But if Barbados is British accented, it's British with a calypso beat, a steel drum accompaniment and a limbo bar a bare foot off the beach.

Barbados lies to the east of the Grenadines, north-north-east of Trinidad. It is shaped somewhat like a pear and is well-settled, with many villages — and acres and acres devoted to the cultivation of sugar cane. An excellent local rum is exported to much of the world.

Other products which are available in Barbados are pottery which is produced both at a school training potters and at the factory where they work after training; straw items which are woven by Bajans with nimble fingers and which include baskets, mats, hats and other items; and souvenirs made from shells, sweet grass boxes and tortoise shell curios. An excellent variety of duty-free goods (especially English china) is available.

Heavily-populated Barbados has a cosmopolitan atmosphere and there are museums, art exhibits, cricket matches, night clubs, band concerts and a wide variety of other activities to intrigue the vacationer.

Carmel's Lee Ann Dahle To Compete For Salinas Rodeo Sweetheart Title

Lee Ann Dahle, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Dahle, Carmel, is one of 20 high school seniors from all parts of the state who will compete for the title of Sweetheart of the California Rodeo at Salinas July 17 through 20.

Miss Dahle is entered as "Miss Carmel Valley," under the sponsorship of the Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club Inc.

In addition to the honor of reigning over the state's biggest Western celebration, the winning contestant will receive a $500 scholarship good at the college of her choice.

Despite her interest in animals, art is Miss Dahle's first love. She says she has always loved drawing and making pretty things with her hands.

As a result she is planning to enter the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland this fall.

Accident Report Form Is Revised

The department of Motor Vehicles is requiring more information than formerly from persons involved in auto collisions, in order to comply with a State Supreme Court ruling.

An accident report has always been required by the department of all principals in a reportable vehicle crash.

"More information is needed," said DMV Director Verne Orr, "because in May 1969 the California Supreme Court excluded from application of the state's financial responsibility law motorists who could not reasonably be judged at fault in the crash.

"Under the 22-year-old law, a vehicle driver or owner who gets into a collision serious enough to be reported must show ability to pay claims against him. We could, and occasionally did, deprive a person of his driver's license and vehicle registration if he failed to have insurance or put up bond.

"We did not attempt, in advance of litigation, to judge the relative negligence of the parties in the crash. Now we must do so.

"The Court has told us that in those few cases where one party is reasonably likely to escape being found liable for damages, we may not suspend his driver's license or registration, even if he is not insured and does not post bond."

The new questionnaire, form SR-1C, is being distributed statewide to law enforcement offices, insurance companies and auto clubs.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever."

These verses from John 14 are from this week's Bible Lesson - Sermon in all Christian Science churches.

A correlative passage in the lesson, from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, explains: "Christian Sience, understood, coincides with the Scriptures, and sustains logically and demonstratively every point it presents."

Movies At Town House

The Carmel Foundation will present a program of moving pictures at its weekly afternoon meeting, at the Town House, Wednesday, July 2 at 2:30.

"Brazilian Tapestry" and "Argentina Today," loaned by the Standard Oil Company, will be shown to members and to the general public without charge. Tea will be served following the program.

Still Vacancies For Camp Amigos

A few openings are still available for children 8 to 11½ years old at Camp Amigos, the integrated day camp located in Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Winthrop Griffith, chairman of the Camp Amigos committee, has announced that some vacancies exist in the first three sessions of the camp, which opens its second season on July 21 on the grounds of the All Saints' Day School.

Camp Amigos offers a full program of crafts, swimming, sports and cook-outs from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with an overnight camp on Thursday nights. Special trips will include an afternoon at the Carmel Valley community pool, a hike to Saddle Mountain Ranch, an afternoon at the beach and an outing to Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey.

The camp provides lunches, Thursday night dinner and Friday breakfast. Parents are responsible for transportation to and from the camp, but the camp staff will help to arrange car pools.

The cost for the camp is unusually low — $1 a week. The balance of the camp's operating expenses, which amount to about $15 per week per child, come from voluntary contributions from parents, from several churches, and from community service organizations, including the Kiwanis clubs of Monterey and Carmel Valley, the Monterey Rotary Club and the Crosby Foundation.

Interested parents should contact Mrs. Jack Brewer, 624-6906, immediately for applications.

Mrs. Griffith also announced that 19 teenagers, representing all public and private high schools in the Monterey area, have been selected by camp director Dan Albert to assist at Camp Amigos.

The counselors were chosen from over 70 applicants on the basis of camping experience, swimming ability and leadership potential. They will be paid $20 a week for their services.

Chosen as Camp Amigos counselors are Jyl Porch, Jane Dyer, Tony Pelton, Wendy Anne Schneider and Lyn Vandervort fo Carmel and Laura Fife of Pebble Beach.

Camp Amigos was started last year by members of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Carmel and St. Dunstan's Church in Carmel Valley who felt the need for an integrated day camp program that would bring children from throughout the Monterey Peninsula together in the warmth and rural beauty of Carmel Valley. Although the camp uses property owned by All Saints' Church, is it non-sectarian.

Census Shows Sea Otters' Increase

A census has disclosed a count of 1,014 sea otters along the Central California coast, indicating a dramatic comeback of the rare animals, the Department of Fish and Game reported today.

The aerial census by DFG biologists, the sixth this year, was made June 2 along the coast from Seaside to Cayucos. Two earlier flights had resulted in high counts of 983 and 931 otters under similarly good conditions.

Dr. Richard Peterson, assistant professor of biology at UC Santa Cruz, heads the UC team which is working under a grant from the Owings Foundation, founded by Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Owings of Big Sur, who formed a volunteer group known as Friends of the Sea Otter which is cooperating in the study.

The DFG is experimenting with sea otters on a small scale to develop techniques for handling, transporting and tagging them. The objective of this work is to allow the department to extend the range of sea otters in California and to relieve the pressure on their food supply in areas of heavy otter concentration.

To date, five sea otters have been tagged and moved, and two others are held in captivity at the Stanford Research Institute. The UCSC team was able to follow one tagged otter for two days.

Once believed near extinction as a result of their widespread slaughter by fur traders in the late 18th and 19th centuries, the California sea otter herd has increased slowly during the past 50 years.

The California sea otter has been declared a rare and endangered species and is a fully protected animal under both state and federal law.

FALSE GODS
The chief idols in the desecrated temple of mankind, are none other than the triple gods of Nationalism, Racialism and Communism, at whose altars governments and peoples, whether democratic or totalitarian, at peace or at war, of the East or of the West, Christian or Islamic, are, in various forms and in different degrees, now worshipping. Their high priests are the politicians and the worldly-wise, the so-called sages of the age; their sacrifice, the flesh and blood of the slaughtered multitudes; their incantations, outworn shibboleths and insidious and irreverent formulas; their incense, the smoke of anguish that ascends from the lacerated hearts of the bereaved, the maimed, and the homeless.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Fourth of July Is Lettuce Time"

Not meaning to sound corny . . . but let us go to the beach for a real Carmel Fourth. Besides salads in variety, we'll have corn . . . sweet, young, tender corn.

We gals will provide the above and you guys the substance, the meat . . . hot dogs, burgers, steaks. Fair division?

As the last issues of "Party Plans" have been rather lacking in actual recipes, this time we'll give loads of directions to rectify same.

So, off to the beaches come July. To go with juicy Porterhouse, T-Bones (or what have you) let's start with this classic

Tossed Carmel Salad

One head, each, Iceberg, romaine and chickory; 6 slices bacon; 2 T. chopped fresh parsley; 1 cup garlic-flavored croutons.

Wash greens, drain well and keep chilled. Saute bacon until crisp; drain off fat and crumble into small bits.

Combine following dressing in screw-top pint jar; shaking hard. (Be sure top is secure). You may add a soupcon of sugar!

Dressing: 1 t. salt; ¼ t. ground pepper; 3 T. wine vinegar; 1 raw very freshest egg; ½ t. prepared mustard; 1 t. fresh lemon juice; ½ cup salad oil.

Tear the greens into oiled wooden salad bowl, with which a garlic clove has been well rubbed. Sprinkle with parsley and bacon. Just at serving add the croutons . . . not before, as they must remain crunchy. Makes about 8 servings.

Vagabond Beach Salad

Half a cup sesame seeds; 1 T. butter; ¼ cup Parmesan cheese, freshly grated if possible; 1 cup commercial sour cream (not homemade from buttermilk); ½ cup lemon flavored mayonnaise; 1 T. tarragon vinegar; sugar, salt, to taste; 1 minced garlic clove; ¼ cup, each, chopped green pepper and unpeeled cucumber; 2 T. minced onion, 2 heads Iceberg lettuce.

Saute sesame seeds in butter until lightly tanned. Remove from heat and add cheese. Blend sour cream, mayonnaise, special vinegar until smooth. Add sugar, salt, garlic, green or red pepper, cucumber and onion; mix well.

Tear lettuce with hands into bite-size pieces in salad bowl; sprinkle with salt and freshly grated pepper and ¾ sesame seed mixture. Toss with sour cream dressing and garnish with remaining sesame seeds. Decorate top with sliced unpeeled young radishes, cut-up chives and raw mushroom slices. Serves 8?

There are many successful ways to cook sweet corn. Husk the green ears, allowing 2, or more, per person. Remove silk and drop into boiling unsalted water. Season with sugar for extra flavor. Even a bit of milk, canned or fresh, will add flavor. Cook, covered, only until corn is really tender. . . . 3 to 6 min.

If you wish to cook corn outdoors over a grill (and what better method?) just husk corn and soak in cold water 15 min. Brush ears with hot melted butter and place directly on grill over very hot coals. Turn corn with tongs over and over, brushing with butter the whole time. When golden serve right off. Salt and pepper shakers, plenty of paper towels . . . what bliss!

Should you prefer to cook corn in their husks, peel back the green husks to remove the silk, brush with melted butter, replace husks and tie securely with slender pieces of husk . . . or you might have to use twine. However the latter doesn't improve the natural flavor of just-picked-corn-in-the-fields.

Soak ears in husks about 30 minutes in ice water; then place immediately over hissing coals and grill. Turn often about 14-20 min. You can be modern, and place the pristine husked corn, spread with melted butter, in aluminum foil. Wrap tightly, place over hot coals. Turn several times while cooking, about 15 min.

There are many other ways to serve fresh corn. You can vary the seasonings in the butter that accompanies the golden plump milky ears, or cut kernels from the cob, for other tempting ideas . . . without fanfare.

Seasoned butters for Corn: Four T. butter; ½ t. salt, dash of pepper. ADD: 1 t. chili powder or 1 t. garlic salt or 1 t. curry powder or ¾ t., each, finely minced parsley and onion, or 1 t. minced dill with or without minced chives.

Soften or melt butter, blend in remaining ingredients. Spread or brush on fresh, hot corn-on-the-cob. You can use these seasoned butters immediately as a spread, or, place mixture on waxed paper; wrap and chill until firm. Shape into a roll. Cut off slices to spread on corn. Superb on baked Idaho potatoes for those of us who are unfortunately corn-shy.

Corn Relish

Six ears fresh corn; ½ medium green pepper, chopped; 2½ T. chopped pimiento; 5 stalks celery, chopped; 1 large onion, chopped; 1 small clove garlic, chopped fine; 2/3 cup salad oil; 3 T. wine vinegar; 2½ t. salt; 1 t. pepper; 1¼ t. dry mustard; ¼ t. tumeric.

Cook corn 6-10 min. and remove from cob. Add remaining ingredients and let stand several hours. Keep refrigerated. Wonderful with short ribs, steaks and chops for an old-fashioned flavor.

Speaking of short ribs, for the benefit of those who do not want to become strictly vegetarian, take along this rib-sticking

Mexican Bean Soup

Half lb. dry red or garbanzo beans (or mixture of each); 2½ lbs. short ribs of beef; 1 qt. hot water; 4 large fresh tomatoes, peeled and chopped; 2 cloves garlic, minced; 1 cup finely minced celery; ½ t. pepper, 4 t. salt and 1 t. chili powder (or to taste).

Wash beans; cover with warm water and soak overnight. Drain — brown short ribs in kettle. Cover with hot water, add beans, cover and simmer for 2 hours. Add more water as needed to keep meat and beans well covered. Remove short ribs from soup mixture and cut meat from bones; discard bones and fat and replace meat in soup. Add remaining ingredients and cook gently another hour, adding water and tasting for additional seasoning as needed. Makes 8 servings. At the beach either reheat in same kettle over low coals on a grid. Or take in wide-mouth thermos. Serve piping hot into mugs with spoons. This will make the fog feel like sunshine.

SYMBOL OF HOPE — The SS Hope, a former Navy hospital ship now fitted as a medical clinic and school, steams into an Asian harbor on its mission of mercy. A special performance of "Oliver!" at the Cinema 70 Theater in Del Monte Center on July 9 will benefit Project Hope. For tickets and further information, call The House of Peace, 624-5550 or 1122.

'Oliver!' Performance Sponsored By House of Peace for Project Hope

The House of Peace, Dolores at 5th in Carmel, will sponsor a special showing of the Oscar-winning "Oliver!" at Cinema 70 in the Del Monte Shopping Center on July 9.

All proceeds of this performance will go to support the activities of Project Hope and the SS Hope hospital ship.

Project Hope is America's foremost ambassador of good health and good will throughout the world.

In the past nine years, the SS Hope has trained more than 5000 medical, dental, and para-medical personnel in the latest techniques of healing developed by U.S. medical science.

Since the first voyages to Indonesia and Vietnam in 1960, the SS Hope has made a series of 10-month-long missions to Peru, Ecuador, Guinea, Nicaragua, Colombia, and Ceylon. She will soon leave from New Jersey, where she is being restocked, for a visit to Tunisa.

The SS Hope is a 15,000 ton vessel, originally the U.S. Navy hospital ship Consolation — which was chartered to the People-to-People Health Foundation Inc., in 1960.

The 520-foot ship has three operating rooms with the most modern equipment. She has hospital beds for 130 patients, classrooms where instruction is given and a "mechanical cow" — a machine which converts powdered milk into liquid and packages it in one-pint cartons.

SS Hope's heart and soul are its staff of doctors, nurses and medical technologists. Its permanent staff is constantly augmented by volunteer teams of surgeons, physicians and dentists in twenty specialties who are flown to the ship from the United States for two months tours of duty without pay.

Project Hope was founded by Dr. William B. Walsh, and is the principal activity of "The People-to-People Health Foundation Inc."

Realizing that no country can be economically healthy without a healthy population, Dr. Walsh persuaded President Eisenhower to take a Navy hospital ship out of "mothballs" and permit it to be refitted for use as a floating medical center staffed by U.S. volunteers.

The ship mechanically is operated by Grace Lines, but medically its staff is made up a large number of volunteer doctors, who give up their practices for a two month period to serve on the S.S. Hope in various parts of the world.

Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

To begin with a new item this week, let me tell you that the reading tables in the adult reading room will be refinished during the week.

By the time you read this, the work will be well underway and the whole library should be redolent with the heavenly smell of fresh stain and wax. And beside the good clean smell, they should be beautiful again.

Most of them were hand made with carved panels on the under-bracing and are still very beautiful. If you never noticed them before, you will now.

Our new contract with Abrams Publishing Company is bearing good fruit, for we are adding books about modern artists to our collection.

Two books which arrived this week, but are still not catalogued, are on Jasper Johns and on August Macke. Give us a little time and then check for them in our catalog under the artist's names.

We have a new translation and interpretation of St. Augustine's Confessions done by Robert J. O'Connell, S.J.

According to Father O'Connell, "Augustine envisioned man as 'soul' fallen from contemplative bliss into the chaos of bodily, temporal existence. Augustine realized that, if the reader is to view himself as a fallen soul in a journey back to God, he must be shown that he retains a 'memory' of his pre-existent happiness, as well as marks of the sin which caused his fall."

"School refusal" or "school phobia" is a condition often found in young children and according to our next author this condition is often best handled by the family doctor who knows the child's physical condition prior to the onset of the school problem.

The author is Dr. Max Clyne and the title of his book is Absent: School Refusal.

The fact that this is a rather common problem makes it valuable to this library. But even reading this may not be a substitute for a visit to your kindly old family physician. Meanwhile, take a couple of aspirin and read the book.

Two more additions to our American Indian collection are The Fighting Cheyennes by George Bird Grinnell, and Indians of the High Plains by George Hyde.

The latter book covers prehistoric Indian history up to the time of the coming of the white man, thus filling in an information gap in our knowledge. Neither book has been romantically embellishished but rather they state facts clearly and concisely.

From some place or other, we picked up a copy of the California Almanac For 1849.

Naturally enough, it is a reprint published in 1942 by the Ward Richie Press, but even so we will shelve it in a locked case.

It predicts four eclipses for 1849, two of the sun and two of the moon. Zachary Taylor was President and made $25,000 in the position.

The members of his Cabinet were paid $6,000 each except for the Attorney General who only made $4,000.

One article advocates a daily bath and states that when you have accustomed yourself to daily bathing you will have made a great step toward good health. On this night in 1849 there was a full moon.

Cultural Group Elects Officers

New officers were elected by the Carmel Cultural Commission at its meeting Monday night.

Newly elected Commission Chairman is Patricia Faul, who pointed out before her election that her available time was limited, since she was employed as a school teacher.

Her fellow commissioners felt, however, that this was not sufficient reason for withdrawing her nomination, and they voted her into office.

She was nominated for the position by D. Paul Medalie, who relinquished the chairmanship which he has held since last year.

Upon assuming the Commission chairmanship, Mrs. Faul called for nominations for the post of vice chairman. The predecessor in that post, Commissioner James Pruitt, nominated Commissioner Ashton Stanley for the vice chairmanship, and he was voted into office.

Before the vote was taken, City Administrator Hugh Bayless pointed out that the Municipal Code did not require that the vice chairman be a resident of the City of Carmel, though it did specify that the Commission chairman had to meet that requirement. Stanley, who operates a motel in Carmel, resides in Pebble Beach.

The new Commission chairman is the wife of George Faul, president of Monterey Peninsula College. She is the only remaining Cultural Commission member who had served previously on the Carmel Arts Commission, one of two predecessor commissions out of which the present Cultural Commission was formed two years ago.

Reporting on his effort to secure contributions at the rate of $50 per seat to take the place of city funds already committed to the purchase of new seats for the Sunset Auditorium, Commissioner Stanley expressed his disappointment in the campaign which so far had produced financial backing for less than a third of the new seats to be installed at the end of this summer. The funds being accumulated are to be used for further renovation of Sunset auditorium facilities.

At the suggestion of Commissioner James Pruitt, the Commission decided to arrange meetings with leaders of the organizations which are principal users of the Sunset Auditorium, to see if they could participate specifically in the effort to secure community support for the Sunset renovation effort. Those principal users are the Monterey County Symphony, the Carmel Bach Festival, and the Carmel Music Society.

Sunset Manager Cole Weston reported that the programs for the free summer Sunday afternoon events to be presented at the city's Forest Theater, are now being readied for mailing.

The city-supported summer programs at the Forest Theater are an annual series of many years standing.

— Gunnar Norberg

Grand Canyon Adventure Planned

An exciting adventure for later in the summer is planned when a group of Monterey Peninsula College faculty members, led by geology teacher, John Kingsley, take rubber life rafts down the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon.

Rod Holmgren, of Carmel journalism teacher at MPC, will take his 16 year old son Jack along.

Kenneth Peterson of Pebble Beach, astronomy teacher, is another who will take trip from Yankee Point to Phantom ranch on the south rim, written up in the National Geographic for May and in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Lines from Lois

JUNE'S ALMOST GONE

The season of long daylight — the the growing time. "Planting's done; praying begins," my Grandfather said. 15 hour days. Best time of the year to look around you and see what's going on. Look at your house. Too big? Too small? In the wrong place? Use some of these long days to check what's available in the kind of house you like.

The season of weddings.

(Because a June wedding was thought tc invoke the mystic protection of the goddess Juno, to whom all women of ancient Rome prayed in critical periods of their lives.) We have just listed the most delightful little honeymoon house. It is perfection behind a picket fence, a completely updated, charming cottage with the most modern kitchen, a corner lot with 2 patios, and just around the corner from Sunset school. The price is a comfortable $37,750 and this is the first time you will ever have heard about it.

The season of wild strawberries.

Did you pick them and put the heaviest of the skimmed cream into the dish? Did you make tea from the dried leaves, or from mint, or blackberry root or sassafras? Perhaps you planted your herbs between the spokes of wheels, or in a barrel, or between the rungs of a ladder. Did your grandmother tell you about making dye from the elderberry (blue), or laurel for the yellow (although the autumn goldenrod was better), and pokeweek for red? Did you wade in brooks?

If you missed out on these things, or if you were lucky and remember them with delight, maybe you need to return to the country — permanently, or for the weekends. We have building sites or acreage with settings and views to make your heart glad again, and we can even find Your Thing with a house on it, if you prefer. Challenge us! It's our business — and our pleasure — to show you what we have or find what you want. June's such a good time to look.

NEAR LYNCHING—Rotary Anns were present at the last Carmel Rotary luncheon meeting to be presided over by outgoing president Bill Cranston. There was fun and merriment as members "got even" for the many times they were fined during the Cranston administration. Here members give consideration to the possible hanging of the demoted president. New president Arne Halle said the slogan for his year will be "Black is Beautiful" as he referred to the red ink in the treasury after the past year's charitable contributions.

School Board

business manager for the district.

Board President Steven H. Sassoon expressed the hope that the reserves, weakened by $40,000, could be replenished in some way.

Clayton Neill, board member for eight years, was praised for his dedicated service and presented a cake, some pottery made by a first year student at Carmel High School and a pen set made by a fifth grade student at Middle School.

The resignations of Miss Pat Mewhinney, high school English teacher who is retiring, and Miss Edwina Marino, Tularcitos fifth grade teacher, were accepted.

Howard P. Sanborn, with an impressive background of education and teaching experience at the high school and college level, was hired to teach biology at the high school.

Miss Sharon Elliott will teach physical education at the high school and Miss Nancy Buchanon will teach at Woods school.

It was agreed to supply a bus and driver for Operation Headstart for which the district will be reimbursed.

City Trees

seemed to summarize the Council's views when he said "if we lose the trees, we lose the town."

The Council acted with less enthusiasm in adding a salary provision for an added police officer, but appeared to agree with Police Chief Clyde Klaumann that a replacement for ailing Police Officer Verdie Herdine, was required.

With regard to the position of assistant city administrator, also a new position, the City Council had acted at an earlier meeting this month to employ Ralph Cowen for that job, beginning next week.

But it wasn't just new positions which would add to the 1969-70 salary budget. The Council, following long executive sessions on the subject of salaries, held earlier this month, reported last night on a formula for an across-the-board increase in pay for all city employees. That formula was a five per cent raise all around. City Administrator Hugt Bayless said the cost of living in the past year had risen 5.4 per cent, and that the Council had taken this into account in the closed sessions on the subject of salaries.

Closed sessions on the subject of salaries have just become legal because of an amendment last year by the State Legislature of the state's open-meeting law, known as the Brown Act.

City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton pointed out that the five per cent overall salary increase would cost the city an extra $23,643 and that this amount—if it could not come from other city income sources—would add 12 cents to the city tax rate.

Talk around the Council table seemed to suggest that the addition of the four new jobs discussed, might add the same amount to the tax rate which ultimately will be established, probably in August, but it seemed possible that that increase might come to about nine cents instead of the 12 cents mentioned.

Finance Officer Plaxton pointed out that it was premature to consider precise levels of added taxation, because there were usually remnants of various salary funds from the preceding fiscal year, which remained unused and would be carried forward to the next accounting period.
